What is a vtuber?

Vtubers are people who use models to stream on different platforms and present themselves, these people go through a process that helps them build a character that they can rp as or be and represent them in any virtual space, they are seen in platforms such as twitch, youtube, tiktok and others where they play video games or talk with other people to gain popularity or be able to express themselves, some of them debut (process of them introducing their model) by themselves and others debut under companies.

What type of vtubers are there?

2d vtubers are one of the most famously used models just like the rest you need a reference sheet from your model but this one is complex after creating such reference you'll have to move the character into a art program like photoshop, clipstudio or procreate and either draw each layer like eyes, hair, mouth ect seperately or divide it yourself and draw a connecting layer under each part depending its complexity after that its moved to live2D and its rigged.

3D models just like 2D ones need reference sheet the difference is these use trackings like VR, mocapi ect. and are made in VROID, Unity, Blender or other apps where 3 dimensional objects are created.

Png tubers, the most economic and simplest ones out of the two, you create your avatar on an art software then rig, then its eyes and mouth move

Whats that meme?

Hey thats trollface and we all laugh at him but who was he created by? trollface was drawn in September 19th,2008 and was uploaded to devianART he was drawn by a man called Carlos Ramirez who is an Oakland based artist, this in those times were used on facebook,4chan and even reddit and from there on the meme has always been iconic and now its wildy known and spread across.

Omg Maxwell the spinning cat is a tuxedo cat that became viral in October and November 2022,there was a model made by this cat added in Garry's mod and it was later used as a source of material for videos with various different songs,but the cat was posted in November 20,2017 by their owner. 04

The memevolution

Who the catnip is Nyan cat was a strawberry Russian pop tart cat cat just jumped in space and in a high pitched voice repeated nyan, it was posted in LOL-COMICS and illustrated by Chris Torres this kitty was created on April 2,2011 so start wishing it some happy birthdays,it was uploaded on Youtube and re-blogged on Tumblr and from there on it truly became a staple im sure you can hear it right now from just looking at its image.

Tell us about anime

Anime has been created since early as 1907 and shortly in 1961 it became a hit since then anime has just risen up through out the years now having a global market of consumers and having extremely famous animation studios that pump out movies like Spirited away,My neighbor Totoro and others.

Thats cool tell us more!

Anime just like cartoons has its variety of genres,to-day there are a plethora of anime titles aimed for all sorts of audiences,it's grown to be one of the most important and demanded export-ed products for the Japanese economy which has helped them gain interest in not only the animation style but it's countries culture too by the fans.
